Bemrose Trial at Washgate

The Bemrose motorcycle trial takes place in the south-west of the Peak and is now in its 89th year. It is due to take place on 25 March 2017. Part of the route takes the entrants along Washgate near Hollinsclough where the Authority made a Traffic Regulation Order last year. We are working with the organisers to ensure that impacts are reduced and controlled and which will include site notices and marshals.

Conksbury Bridge

The road at Conksbury Bridge is one of the Peak's quiet lanes leading to the River Lathkill available for everyone to enjoy. However it hasn't been quite as accessible as it should be because the surrounding vegetation has been encroaching on to the path. This has now been carefully removed by Peak Park Conservation Volunteers.

This film helps to explain why paths like this are so important for everyone. Not all paths are suitable for disabled access but sometimes it is possible for us to make a difference and make sure that we maintain that.

Silence at Silence Mine

We have made a temporary closure of the open access land at Silence and Old Grove Mines near Great Hucklow for your safety whilst further investigations and works are carried out. Please help protect yourselves by not going beyond the path leading to the building remains and interpretation panels. We hope it's not too long before you can enjoy the sound of silence here again.
