

Redmires Conduit

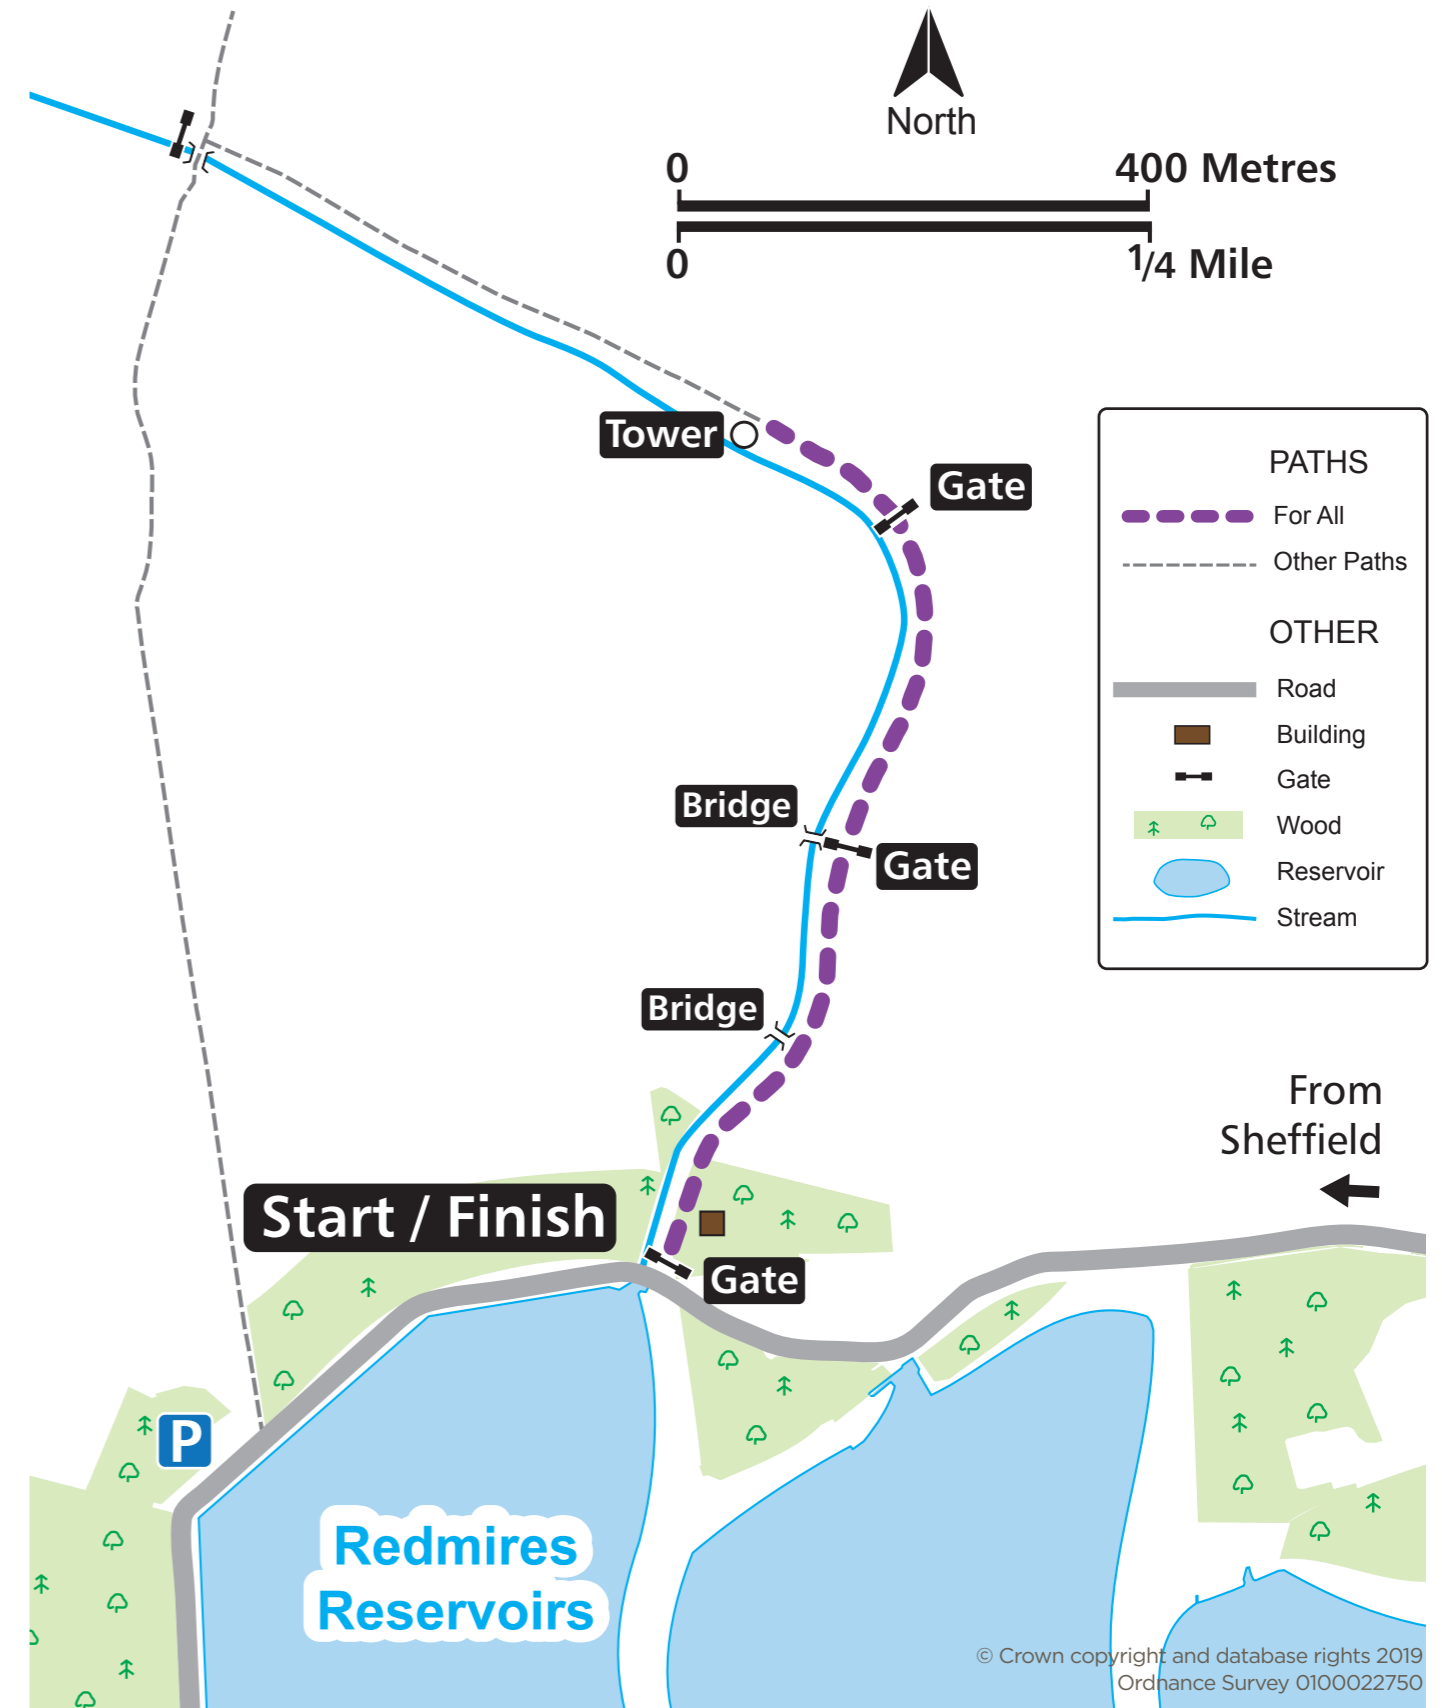

A level route extending from Sheffield's reservoirs into the moorland fringe on the outskirts of the city.

Access For All Route:

- ① Pass through the roadside gate opposite the upper reservoir.
- ② Continue alongside the conduit, through a set of double gates, and then a further gate to the tower.

- i The surveying tower and reservoirs were constructed following Sheffield's cholera epidemic in 1832.
- i The nearby moors were used as a training area for the Sheffield Pals regiment prior to their departure for the Western Front in the First World War.
- i Chubby-faced water voles have made the clean water of the conduit their home.

Distance: 800 m to the tower
Start Point: Opposite Redmires Upper Reservoir, south of the A57 on the western outskirts of Sheffield
OS Grid Ref: SK 2602 8580
Post Code: S10 4QZ
Nearest Facilities: Sheffield

© Crown copyright and database rights 2019
 Ordnance Survey 0100022750

